

The image shows a mathematical expression  $S(z)$  centered within a rectangular box. This box is part of a larger structure consisting of a horizontal line passing through the middle of the box, with short vertical segments at each end. The horizontal line extends beyond the box on both sides. The entire diagram is rendered in black on a white background.

$$S(z)$$